Equal Access Provider

The Washington State Health Care Authority (HCA) believes that every person should have access to the care they need. Therefore, HCA has set guidelines in place to ensure that all Washington State providers are required to allow patients to visit in the company of a companion including a designated driver, a legal advocate, a care representative, or a friend.

Provider ID is a unique identifier assigned by a state or federal entity responsible for the licensing and/or certification of the provider.

NPI is a unique identifier assigned by the National Provider Identifier Program. The NPI, which is a nine-digit number, is structured as follows: the first 5 digits are the unique base provider identification number, the next digit indicates the date format, and the final 3 digits are the check digit.
