Know your options

How you can avoid the emergency room

When you are sick or hurt, you might not want to wait to get medical care. Choosing the right place to go can help you be seen faster.

WHEN CAN YOUR PRIMARY CARE PROVIDER (PCP) TREAT YOU?

For most illnesses and injuries, your PCP's office should be the first place you call when you need care. You might get an appointment for later that day. You may be given advice for self-care. Your doctor could call in a prescription to your drugstore. You can even call at night or on weekends.

WHEN SHOULD YOU GO TO URGENT CARE?

If you cannot get in to see your doctor, you could go to an urgent care center. Urgent care centers take walk-in patients. They treat many kinds of illnesses and injuries. They can perform some kinds of diagnostic tests. Many urgent care centers are open at night and on weekends.

WHEN SHOULD YOU GO TO A HOSPITAL EMERGENCY ROOM?

Emergency rooms are for major medical emergencies only. Go there only when you think your illness or injury could result in death or disability if not treated right away. If you go for a minor problem, you may have to wait a long time.

Hello, nurse! UnitedHealthcare has a 24/7 NurseLine. You can talk to a nurse, day or night. The nurse can help you decide the best place to get care. Call NurseLine 24/7 at 1-800-535-6714 (TTY 711).

Ask Dr. Health E. Hound

Q: How can I help my child feel better when he has a cold?

A: With kids getting as many as eight colds a year, this is a common concern. Colds are more common in the winter. Kids are cooped up inside and the air is dry. Viruses cause colds. Only time will make them better. But you can help your child feel better while he or she recovers.

Rest is the best medicine. But if your child has a fever, headache or sore throat, the pain reliever your doctor recommends may help. Never give aspirin to a child, unless prescribed by his or her doctor. Cold medicines are also not good for children. They don't usually work well and may not be safe.

A warm bath or sitting in the bathroom with a hot shower running can help with a stuffy nose or cough. A humidifier in the child's room helps, too. Make sure your child drinks plenty of water and other fluids. Chicken soup may actually help, too!

Giving consent

Having healthy and happy teen relationships

Teens may think talking about sexual consent is awkward. But it's very important. Both partners need to be able to talk about what they want and don't want. It is a key to a happy and healthy relationship.

Consent isn't the lack of a "no." It's the presence of a "yes." It's best to talk about it before you are in the heat of the moment. Make sure you understand how you each define things, such as "hooking up." Consent needs to be given every time. Don't assume that what was OK before is always OK. It's also OK to change your mind and say no to something you agreed to earlier.

Consent is listening to each other. It's respecting each other's boundaries. It's not consent if a person has been using drugs or alcohol. It's also not consent if one partner feels pressured to say yes, or afraid to say no.
